HIGHLIGHTS

JOINT SECTION LUNCH & PLENARY SESSION (Ticketed Event)
The Section is pleased to announce that Martin A. Sullivan, Chief Economist and Contributing Editor, Tax Analysts will address attendees of the 2019 Fall Tax Meeting at the Section Luncheon on Saturday, October 5 from 12:00pm – 1:30pm at Grand A, Street Level. Attendees must purchase a ticket to attend the luncheon.

TAX BRIDGE TO PRACTICE
Organized by the Tax Section’s Young Lawyers Forum and Diversity Committees, this program is designed to provide an introduction to tax practice. If you are a law student, young lawyer, new bar admittee or practitioner transitioning to tax, then this program is for you. More information is available on page 21.

PRO BONO CLINIC
The Pro Bono Clinic will provide an opportunity for Section members to assist unrepresented taxpayers who have upcoming Tax Court trial dates in San Francisco, as well as those taxpayers who may need other brief services. More information is available on page 23.

SECTION EXHIBITORS
Section Exhibitors will be open on Thursday from 12:00pm to 7:00pm, Friday from 7:00am to 5:00pm and on Saturday from 7:00am to 2:00pm in Grand Foyer, Street Level. The following organizations will have exhibit booths:

HOW TO USE THIS PROGRAM

The program book is divided into three primary sections: Schedule-at-a-Glance, Program Schedule and Alpha Index. The following is a description of each of these sections:

SCHEDULE-AT-A-GLANCE (p. 7)
Lists all programs chronologically by start time, then alphabetically by committee name. Subcommittee meetings are listed under their committee. Use this guide to find programs beginning at a specific time.

Example: To find programs starting on Friday, at 8:30am, go to the Schedule-at-a-Glance section and locate the “Friday 8:30AM” programs. Here you can view the committees meeting at that time, the location, topic and the page number for the full program description in the Program Schedule.

PROGRAM SCHEDULE (p. 21)
Lists all programs chronologically by the start time, then alphabetically by committee names. Subcommittee meetings are listed under their committees. This section includes full program descriptions, speakers, locations and start and end times. The Schedule-at-a-Glance and the Alpha Index will help you locate specific programs in this section.

ALPHA INDEX (p. 70)
Lists all committee programs alphabetically by committee name. Use this section to locate all programs hosted by a specific committee.

Example: To find all programs hosted by the Administrative Practice committee, go to the Alpha Index and locate ‘Administrative Practice.’ You will find a listing of all meetings and events hosted by the Administrative Practice committee. Go to the corresponding page number(s) for more information.

12:45PM – 5:00PM
Tax Bridge on the Road

Sponsored by: Young Lawyers Forum and Diversity.
Program Co-Chairs: Kelley C. Miller, Reed Smith LLP, Washington DC; Cathy Fung, Office of Chief Counsel (Large Business & International), IRS, Washington, DC

12:45pm A Practical Approach to Section 199A. Over 90% of businesses in the US are organized as flow-through entities, making the 20% deduction for qualified business income under section 199A one of the most significant deductions in the Code. This panel will provide a step-by-step approach to determine whether the 20% deduction under section 199A applies to a given business. The panelists will discuss potential pitfalls and strategies to optimize the 20% deduction.
Moderator: Morgan Klinzing, Pepper Hamilton LLP, Philadelphia, PA
Panelists: Danielle M. Grimm, Special Counsel, Office of Associate Chief Counsel (Passthroughs and Special Industries), Washington, DC; Kimberly Arndt, PwC, Washington, DC; Chris Harris, Clark Hill Strasburger, Dallas, TX; David Porter, Law Offices of David B. Porter, San Francisco, CA
Co-sponsored by: Partnerships and LLCs

1:45pm What is Collection Due Process? A Practical Introduction to the Stages of CDP. This panel will provide an introduction to collection due process. Attorneys may deal with IRS Appeals, Collections, and IRS Counsel at different times on behalf of the same taxpayer. What are some considerations in arranging a sustainable collection alternative bearing in mind the protections and procedures of CDP. What are a taxpayer’s options at an administrative level? What type of judicial review is available? How does the case change before the US Tax Court? A panel of CDP experts will examine the various stages of collection due process and how taxpayers may engage with them. This is a CDP Summit Initiative program.
Moderator: Professor Erin H. Stearns, University of Denver, Denver, CO

2:45pm Break.

3:00pm Cross Border Partnership Theory. Under certain provisions of the US international tax law, a partnership may be treated as an aggregate of its partners and under other provisions, a partnership may be treated as an entity. The tension between these two fundamentally different approaches has come into focus because of US tax reform. This presentation will cover the treatment of partnerships under certain key international tax provisions including GILTI, Subpart F, section 163(j), and section 864(c)(8) as well as consider collateral consequences of the aggregate theory of partnership taxation as compared to the entity theory, including structuring considerations. The panel will also discuss compliance and reporting aspects relating to the 2017 and 2018 tax years.

Moderator: Hasnain Valika, KPMG LLP, Houston, TX

Panelists: Avani Shah, KPMG LLP, Boston, MA; Amie Colwell Breslow, Jones Day, Washington, DC; Brandon King, Baker McKenzie LLP, Washington, DC; Amit Sachdeva, EY, Houston, TX

4:00pm Can't Touch This: The Basics of Intangibles. In the modern economy, more and more value is derived from intangible assets. As the value of these assets increase, so does the complexity surrounding their taxation. This panel will provide a primer on the identification of intangible assets and how they have been and are currently taxed in the US and abroad. The panelists will cover areas such as transfer pricing (including BEPS), Foreign-Derived Intangible Income (FDII), and Global Intangible Low-Tax Income (GILTI) regimes created by the Tax Cut and Jobs Act.

Panelists: Drew A. Cummings, Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, Washington, DC; Nick Zemil, PwC, Washington DC; Jorge M. Oben, Attorney, Office of Associate Chief Counsel (International), IRS, Washington, DC; Lisandra Ortiz, Miller & Chevalier, Washington, DC

Tax Collection, Bankruptcy & Workouts

Chair: Lawrence A. Sannicandro, McCarter & English, LLP, Newark NJ

1:00pm When Bankruptcy May be the Better Option. Often times clients with significant tax liabilities first consider administrative resolution with the IRS, such as an offer in compromise. However, many clients frequently find themselves saddled with additional non-tax debt that an offer simply does not resolve. Join us in exploring when bankruptcy may be a better alternative to resolve a client's collective financial difficulties. The panel will discuss the different types of bankruptcy options available, the fundamental requirements for discharge of a tax liability as well as exceptions and much more.

10:15am Break.
10:30am  The IRS Violated My Client’s Religious Liberties: When is This Unlawful and What Can We Do About It? Since about the 1950’s, there have been several instances in which a requirement imposed on taxpayers by the tax code conflicts with their deeply held religious beliefs. Most recently, the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act introduced a Social Security number requirement under Internal Revenue Code § 24(h)(7) that significantly (and negatively) impacts the Amish community, who have sincere religious objections to obtaining Social Security benefits. This panel will discuss the nuts and bolts of the intersection of taxation and religious liberties and will specifically address whether this new provision violates the Constitution or other laws designed to protect taxpayers’ religious beliefs.

Do We Really Need Subchapter S and Subchapter K? The federal income tax has two systems for taxing the income of a business entity to the entity’s owners: Subchapter S based in part on the corporate income tax structure of Subchapter C, and Subchapter K, a different system that passes all income, deductions and credits of a “partnership” to its partners. In many cases, particularly with entities that are LLCs under applicable state law, the entity may be able to choose either pass-through taxation system. The issues that may affect the choice are numerous. The two pass-through systems are not the same. Subchapter S includes a number of rules that limit the eligibility of certain corporations for its benefits and a series of detailed rules for electing or terminating the application of Subchapter S. Subchapter K, however, allows partners to be allocated basis in their partnership interests for certain indebtedness of the partnership; shareholders of an S corporation cannot receive such basis credit for the corporation's indebtedness. Other differences arise out of special characterization rules applicable under Subchapter K to certain transactions involving partners and partnerships. By contrast, shareholder employees of a Subchapter S corporation may be able to avoid Social Security, Medicare, and other payroll taxes by not having all of their income from the corporation paid as ‘salaries.’ Partnerships generally cannot use this avoidance technique because partners may not be ‘employees’ of partnerships. However, Subchapter K, by far a more flexible system, offers a number of benefits not available to S corporations. Generally, Subchapter K allows partnerships more tax treatment flexibility in the form of provisions permitting planning options including special allocations, tax-free contributions to the partnership, and various basis adjustments under Sections 734(b), 743(b) and 754. One result of this flexibility is a special post-filing structure for auditing partnerships and their partners, perhaps partly because, unlike S corporations, partnerships can have an unlimited number of partners. Leaving aside issues such as S corporation penalty taxes applicable to S corporations that were formerly C corporations, the question remains whether there is any sound justification for having two separate pass-through systems for taxing members of business entities. The speakers will discuss the benefits that eliminating one system might yield, argue the plusses and minuses of both systems, consider how a single system might include elements drawn from both current systems, and perhaps address what a change to a single system would require by way of transition.

10:00am  Tax Reform, Past & Future: TCJA, OECD, Digital Taxes, & the Tech Industry. The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA) of 2017 represents the most significant business tax reform in more than 30 years. Its provisions were designed to bring jobs back to the US, stimulate investment, and encourage companies to keep intellectual property in the US. With competing objectives, the TCJA sought to increase American competitiveness by reducing the corporate rate of tax, but was also designed to subject foreign earnings from intangibles to potential US tax. Now, further changes on are on the horizon, with the introduction of digital taxes by certain counties, and continuing efforts by the OECD to reach agreement on modified global tax provisions (such as perhaps new profit allocation mechanisms and a GILTI-like minimum tax). Our panel will discuss the TCJA and these new changes as they relate to the Silicon Valley and how companies are responding.

10:00am Charitable Gifts of Private Fund Interests. Exempt organizations are increasingly being approached by donors interested in making a charitable contribution of their interests in private investment funds. The proposed donation may be of an interest in the vehicle sponsoring the investment fund or an interest in the investment fund itself. This panel will explain the mechanics of gifts of private fund interests and how the donor and recipient evaluate the issues that may arise if a charity is to own and administer the donated interest.

Moderator: Karl Mill, Adler & Colvin, Washington, DC
Panelists: B. Howard Pearson, Stanford University, Palo Alto, CA; Karen Johnson, Harvard Management Company, Cambridge MA
Co-sponsored by: RPTE Charitable Group

11:00am Break.

11:15am Current Developments: Guidance Under the 2017 Tax Act and Beyond. This panel will discuss proposed regulations issued under section 4968, the impact of Bullock v. IRS and proposed regulations under 6033 on the donor disclosure requirement and IRS Revenue Procedures, section 4960 updates and other EO news.

Moderator: LaVerne Woods, Davis Wright Tremaine LLP, Seattle, WA
Panelists: Elizabeth Kingsley, Harmon Curran Spielberg & Eisenberg LLP, Washington, DC; Amber MacKenzie, Senior Attorney, IRS Office of Associate Chief Counsel (EEE), Washington, DC; Alexander Reid, Morgan Lewis LLP, Washington, DC; Maura Whelan, Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP, New York, NY

12:30pm Exempt Organizations Committee Luncheon (Ticketed Event)
Speaker: Nicole Taylor, President and CEO, Silicon Valley Community Foundation, Mountain View, CA

2:00pm Fiscal Sponsorship After 25 Years. Fiscal sponsorship is an arrangement between a 501(c)(3) public charity and a project in which, typically, the charity receives and expends funds to advance the project while retaining discretion and control over the funds. Over the last 25 years, this practice has gained legitimacy since the days of “fiscal agents” and has generated growth, innovation, and economies of scale in many fields, including public health, documentary film, international grant-making, environmental causes, arts and culture, and community-based human services. This panel will examine the most challenging opportunities and hazards facing the various models of fiscal sponsorship today.

Moderator: Andrew Schulz, New Venture Fund, Washington, DC
Panelists: Stephanie Petit, Adler & Colvin, San Francisco, CA; Geoff Link, San Francisco Study Center, San Francisco, CA; Ruth Williams, Community Initiatives, Oakland, CA

3:00pm IRAs and Charities. Congress is moving to require inherited IRAs to be liquidated in just five or ten years (the “SECURE Act”). This panel will examine those proposals and their implications, particularly for charitable estate planning. Naming a tax-exempt charitable remainder trust as the beneficiary of a retirement account can defer income taxation of... the retirement assets and provide a lifetime income stream to the CRT beneficiary. When does such an arrangement make sense, and what are the practical steps to successfully make such a transfer?

Moderator: Professor Chris Hoyt, University of Missouri (Kansas City) School of Law, Kansas City, MO

Panelists: Jean Gorman, Lucile Packard Foundation for Children’s Health, Palo Alto, CA; Russell G. Gully, Thompson & Knight LLP, Dallas, TX

Co-sponsored by: RPTE Charitable Group

Graduate Tax Program

#1 Graduate Tax Program on the West Coast; #5 nationwide (taxprof blog).

The Graduate Tax Program at the University of California, Irvine School of Law offers an innovative, one-of-a-kind LLM curriculum that instills students with both the doctrinal depth and the practical skills needed to practice tax law at the highest levels, in the United States or abroad.

Practical Skills
The program is the only tax program in the country where students are required to complete Practical Tax Skills (PTS) training.

Who Should Apply
Domestic applicants must have completed a J.D. degree in a U.S. Law School accredited by the ABA prior to applying. Foreign candidates are eligible to apply if they have been awarded their home-country law degree prior to matriculation in the program, or are otherwise licensed to practice law in their home country.

Location
UCI Law is located in the heart of Orange County, California and home to fast growing industry centers. Irvine is one of the safest cities in the United States.
This panel will discuss recent guidance and other issues addressing ERISA fiduciary responsibilities. The panel will offer perspectives on the Supreme Court’s grants of certiorari in Jander v. IBM (public company stock holdings in defined contribution plans), Sulyma v. Intel (applicable statute of limitations in breach of fiduciary duty cases), and Thole v. US Bank (defined benefit plan participant’s standing to sue for plan losses). The panel also will discuss, to the extent relevant, other pending or granted petitions for a writ of certiorari. Topics may also include the SEC’s Regulation Best Interest and associated rules, and other fiduciary responsibility developments.

12:30pm Retirement: Can Current Policies Afford You One? Legislative Efforts to Alleviate the Gap in Retirement Savings. About one-half of the households in the United States will not have enough retirement income to maintain their pre-retirement standard of living. Approximately one-third of the workforce in the private sector lacks access to employer-sponsored retirement and savings plans, and about one-half of retirement-age households will rely almost exclusively on Social Security and Medicare to pay for retirement. The Pension Protection Act of 2006 was the last substantial piece of federal retirement legislation. However, efforts to address retirement savings are gaining momentum, with state and local governments enacting legislation requiring automatic enrollment in individual retirement accounts, the Senate introducing the Retirement Enhancement and Savings Act, and the House Ways and Means Committee passing the Setting Every Community Up for Retirement Enhancement Act. But what implications do these efforts have on households already struggling to achieve financial security while working? The panel will discuss the history of retirement policy in the United States, recent federal, state, and local legislative efforts to increase retirement savings, and the implications of retirement policy efforts on middle to low income households.

2:00pm Move Over Say on Pay and Pay Ratio, Here Comes EEO-1 Component 2: The Very Latest Pay Disclosure Regime. Who has to file the EEO-1 Component 2 disclosures? What years are covered? What data is required to be disclosed? Why did the Office of Management and Budget stay the disclosure? Why was the stay lifted? When is disclosure required? What are the penalties for noncompliance? What should employers do about missing data, subcontractors, and mergers and acquisitions? What should employers do about employees who work for different related entities in a year? How are PEOs and staffing companies managing the disclosures? When should employers start reprogramming systems? Is relief on the way? When should employers panic? What if I don’t even know what the EEO-1 Component 2 disclosures are? This panel of experts will address these and other pressing concerns and will provide an up-to-the-minute update on the litigation over the EEO-1 Component 2 disclosures.

2:00pm
State Corporate Income Tax Impacts of GILTI: Challenges and Opportunities. This session will explore the state corporate income tax challenges and opportunities for both taxpayers and tax administrators posed by the GILTI provisions of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act. The impact of GILTI under existing state statutory frameworks, such as add-back statutes, dividends received deductions, Subpart F income and filing groups will be examined, as well as specific state treatment of GILTI inclusions and deductions. Consideration will also be given to potential constitutional and statutory mitigating principles, including the unitary business principle, foreign commerce clause limitations, factor representation and alternative apportionment.

Moderator: Mark Holcomb, Dean Mead & Dunbar, Tallahassee, FL
Panelists: Helen Hecht, Multistate Tax Commission, Washington, DC; Karl Frieden, Council on State Taxation, Washington, DC

3:00pm
Constitutional Issues in Local Taxation. The same US Constitutional issues that are in play on the state level are equally applicable to local taxation. Due Process, Commerce Clause and other Constitutional restrictions and protections apply to local gross receipts Tax, business taxes, sales taxes and other similar local level taxes. Topics and law reviewed include apportionment, allocation and proration of taxes across local jurisdictions.

Moderator: Stephanie Anne Lipinski Galland, Williams Mullen, Washington, DC

3:20pm Private Causes of Action Under the Code. There are several sections of the Internal Revenue Code that create private causes of action and/or defenses to liability. For example, 26 U.S.C. § 7431 provides a penalty for sales with the intent to evade tax. The panel will review when the courts will use a violation of a representation or warranty as to taxes, or the failure to file a bulk sale notice, as a defense to the purchase money note. Also of interest are attempts to include the government as a party under 28 U.S.C. §2410 and the government’s right to remove under 26 U.S.C. § 7424. The panel will also discuss the Right of Contribution under 26 U.S.C. § 6672(d)

2:30pm

The TCJA and Inside-Outside Basis Disparities. The qualified opportunity zone rules, the application of section 163(j)’s limitation on the deduction for business interest expense and the GILTI regime may result in aggregate outside bases of a partnership’s partners not equaling the aggregate tax basis of the partnership’s assets (i.e., an inside-outside basis disparity). This panel will focus on the relevant TCJA provisions and examples of common fact patterns that may result in inside-outside basis disparities.

Moderator: Adam Cohen, Holland & Hart LLP, Denver, CO

Panelists: Julie Marion, Latham & Watkins LLP, Chicago, IL; Barksdale Penick, EY, Washington, DC

3:30pm

Partnership Continuations and Terminations after the TCJA. The TCJA repealed section 708(b)(1)(B) “technical” terminations. As a result, whether a transaction results in an “actual” termination or a termination under the partnership merger and division rules is more relevant than ever. This panel will discuss section 708’s application in the post-TCJA context.

Transfer Pricing 🡅
Chair: Jana S. Lessne, KPMG LLP, Washington, DC

2:30pm Remaking Transfer Pricing for the Digital Age Part One. The tax challenges of digitalization have been a focus of tax policy discussion at the OECD and elsewhere since before BEPS. Will all of this talk soon lead to action? A sweeping ambitious and fast-moving G20-sponsored and OECD-led work program has coalesced around three broad proposals for rewriting longstanding profit attribution rules. A comprehensive economic impact assessment is expected this fall, along with narrowing consensus on a particular policy option and, in 2020, a fully fleshed out technical proposal. All options on the table would diverge from the arm’s length standard. This panel will update the audience on the policy proposals currently under discussion and critically analyze them from theoretical, technical, and practical perspectives. In particular, the panel will examine the various proposals’ potential implications for US companies and for fundamental transfer pricing principles.

Moderator: Professor Young Ran (Christine) Kim, University of Utah, Salt Lake City, UT
Panelists: Liz Chien, Ripple Labs, San Francisco, CA; Olivia Long, Matheson, Dublin, Ireland; Michael McDonald, EY, Washington, DC; Marissa Rensen, Special Counsel, IRS Office of Associate Chief Counsel (International), Washington, DC

3:30pm Remaking Transfer Pricing for the Digital Age Part Two. Companies of all sizes and across all sectors are already confronting the challenges of transfer pricing in the digital age: applying long-standing principles to the pricing of digital economy transactions, deciphering the details of various forthcoming or proposed digital services taxes, and adapting legacy systems to capture new types of data on a transaction-by-transaction basis. This panel will focus on how MNEs are planning for, and actively responding to, the compliance demands of digitalization, the new digital services taxes, and the various new OECD guidelines and tax proposals.

Moderator: Professor Lorraine Eden, Texas A&M University, College Station, TX
Panelists: Niraja Srinivasan, Dell Technologies, Austin, TX; Paul Glunt, Los Angeles, CA, KPMG; Brandon de la Houssaye, Walmart, Fayetteville, AR; Liz Chien, Ripple Labs, San Francisco, CA

3:00pm
Technology-Driven Trends in Tax Law Training. This panel explores the changing ways in which lawyers can, and are expected to, train themselves to excel in tax practice in an age of pervasive technology. Formal law firm training of associates is less common than before the Great Recession. Clients no longer are willing to subsidize the training of new associates. Tax associates must arrange to train themselves, outside their full-time, billable work obligations. The panel will discuss various training options (including residential and online LLM programs, online courses, webinars, podcasts, and mixed programs) by which tax lawyers can create a solid foundation for their tax practice and expand their knowledge into new tax subspecialties. These training options employ a range of pedagogical approaches, reflecting ongoing study and experimentation in online learning. The panel will highlight educational best practices, based on learning theory. In addition, the panel will explore parameters by which lawyer-consumers of such training and employer-firms can assess the success of various training options.

California’s New Rules of Professional Conduct. In 2018, the California Supreme Court approved a comprehensive re-write of its rules of professional conduct. California has now joined the other 49 states in adopting ethics rules patterned after the ABA Model Rules of Professional Conduct, effective November 1, 2018. The rules are binding on all attorneys licensed by the California State Bar and, importantly, may apply to non-California lawyers who practice in the state. Our panel will discuss the new rules, including how they apply to tax practice, where they may conflict with Circular 230, and where they differ from the ABA rules. The discussion will emphasize how the ethical standards that apply to California attorneys has changed.

8:00am Prior Opportunities to Dispute Liability in Collection Due Process: An Oversized Reaction to Insufficient Action. What constitutes a “prior opportunity” to dispute a liability within the context of Collection Due Process (CDP)? When is a taxpayer precluded from having a CDP hearing on the basis that she already had a right to a hearing that constituted a prior opportunity? What are the consequences of losing a CDP hearing right? Is this loss mitigated through “equivalent hearings” or do equivalent hearings simply confuse taxpayers and impose excessive burdens on the Service? This panel will explore the consequences of when taxpayers are determined to have had a “prior opportunity” to participate in a CDP procedure and are precluded from CDP hearings and judicial review of their outcomes. This is a CDP Summit initiative program.

Panelists: Soreé Finley, Charlotte Center for Legal Advocacy, Charlotte, NC; Keith Fogg, Federal Tax Clinic, Harvard Law School, Cambridge, MA; Carolyn Lee, Morgan Lewis, San Francisco, CA; Lavar Taylor, Law Offices of A. Lavar Taylor, Santa Ana, CA; Laurence (Larry) Williams, Procedure & Administration, Office of Chief Counsel, Internal Revenue Service, Washington, DC

Cosponsorship: Administrative Practice, Individual & Family Taxation, Tax Collection, Bankruptcy & Workouts

8:55am Recent Developments in Innocent Spouse Litigation. This is part two of a two-part panel addressing relief from joint and several liability. This panel will cover recent developments in innocent spouse litigation and administrative procedures. We will also discuss administrative options for relief where there is no valid joint return. Over the past year innocent spouse litigation has touched on important issues including the limits of Tax Court jurisdiction and the proper scope and standard of review when 6015 relief is requested within a CDP appeal. The Taxpayer First Act introduces additional complexity and uncertainty.

10:15am Break.

10:30am Free File: A Failed Public-Private Partnership? In 2002, the IRS entered into an agreement with a consortium of tax software companies, known as Free File, under which the companies would provide free tax return software to a certain percentage of US taxpayers, and in exchange, the IRS would not compete with these companies by providing its own software to taxpayers. An original version of the Taxpayer First Act would have made permanent the Free File deal between the IRS and software companies. The provision was dropped following articles and reports that have identified numerous problems, including allegations that some of the software providers have improperly steered eligible taxpayers away from Free File, ineffective IRS oversight and marketing of the services, and a failure to connect the services to English as Second Language taxpayers. This panel will consider Free File from the following perspectives: a former industry insider who was present when the IRS and software providers established Free File, a tax administration and tax filing scholar whose writings on Free File highlight many of the program’s problems, and a leading authority on consumer practices and the tax system.

Moderator: Professor Leslie Book, Villanova University Widger School of Law, Villanova, PA

Panelists: Mandi Matlock, National Consumer Law Center, Austin, TX; Professor Dennis J. Ventry Jr., UC Davis School of Law, Davis, CA; Robert A. Weinberger, Tax Policy Center, Washington, DC

11:25am Adopt-A-Base Needs You. The Section’s Adopt-A-Base program is a six year old partnership between the Section and the IRS’s VITA program. It supports VITA assistance to service members at 39 military bases across the country and enables pro bono assistance to service members during filing season. The panel will discuss the history, success, and needs of this program, and will introduce a pilot program planned for the 2020 filing season.

8:30am Panoply of Hot Topics: Section 168(k) Regulations, Where M&A and Section 245A Meet, Section 355 - No-Income-No Problem!, Cloud Regulations, and Other Current Developments! This panel will review recent corporate tax developments in the domestic and cross-border contexts, including recently issued spin-off PLRs, practical issues arising as the dust begins to settle on the 245A temporary regulations, a primer on the Cloud Regulations, and other late-breaking news.
Moderator: Amie Colwell Breslow, Jones Day, Washington, DC
10:00am Break.
10:15am Built-in Items. This panel will explore issues related to the acquisition of corporations with built-in losses, gains, income, and deductions after the TCJA. There will be a particular focus on the significant changes to the built-in gain and loss regime reflected by newly-issued proposed regulations under section 382(h), including the impact those changes will have on the ability to utilize NOLs and other tax attributes. There will also be a focus on certain open issues, including the potential application of section 382 to controlled foreign corporations and the effect that could have on the TCJA's international tax provisions.
Moderator: Anthony Sexton, Kirkland & Ellis LLP, Chicago, IL
Panelists: Jonathan Forrest, Deloitte, Washington, DC; Mark Hoffenberg, KPMG, Washington, DC; Marie Milnes-Vasquez, Special Counsel, IRS Office of Chief Counsel (Corporate), Washington, DC; Lilia Stamm, Attorney, IRS Office of Chief Counsel (Corporate), Washington, DC

9:30am  Break.

9:45am  2019 Executive Compensation Update. This session will address the latest updates affecting executive compensation practice, including key takeaways from the 2019 proxy season, changes to clawback policies, what to consider for hedging policies, recent Delaware decisions affecting executive pay, section 162(m) developments and ISS “venial” sins.

Moderator: Andrew C. Liazos, McDermott Will & Emery LLP, Boston, MA
Panelists: Gerald Audant, Fenwick and West LLP, San Francisco, CA; Mark A. Borges, Compensia, San Francisco, CA; Rita M. Patel, DLA Piper, Washington, DC

10:45am  Evolving Issues on ESOPs. Employee Stock Ownership Plans (ESOPs) continue to be subject to significant scrutiny by the Department of Labor and in private plaintiff litigation. Panelists will discuss the current state of case law challenging transactions undertaken to implement an ESOP ownership structure, as well as, review lessons learned and potential “hot button” items identified through the governmental audit process to which ESOPs are subject. The Panel will also discuss certain practices that can support a fiduciary’s decision to engage in an ESOP transaction and certain transactional structures that are being seen to address concerns raised regarding employee ownership through these retirement plan structures.

Moderator: Donald E. Wellington, Reed Smith LLP, Los Angeles, CA

10:15am  US Tax Aspects of the Foreign Business Activities of Trusts and Estates. Mr. Au and Ms. Chung will discuss trusts and estates that own closely held businesses with international operations following the 2017 Tax Act. The panelists will address check the box elections for pass through entities, foreign business activities of domestic corporations, anti-deferral rules for foreign corporations, and management of DNI and UNI of foreign trusts. Panelists: Ryan R. Au, Shearman & Sterling, Washington DC; Grace Chung, Venable LLP, Los Angeles, CA

11:00am  The Various Uses, Advantages and Considerations of the Beneficiary Deemed Owner Trust (“BDOT”) Technique and the Beneficiary Defective Inheritor’s Trust (“BDIT”) Technique. Mr. Eastland will discuss both the BDOT and BDIT techniques, including the use of the BDOT technique that qualifies as a QTIP, alternative to decanting, transferring trust assets from non GST trusts to GST trusts, and as a possible closely held C corporation bailout technique. Panelist: S. Stacy Eastland, The Goldman Sachs Family Office, Houston, TX

TX

8:30AM – 10:30AM  Seacliff A, Bay Level

LLCs and LLPs Subcommittee of Partnerships & LLCs
Chair: J. Leigh Griffith, Waller Lansden Dortch & Davis LLP, Nashville, TN

8:30am  Section 163(j) and Partnerships. This program will discuss section 163(j)’s application to partnerships. Section 163(j), unusually, requires the limit on deductible interest to be calculated at the partnership level. But, any carryforwards occur at the partner level. Proposed Regulations provide that section 163(j) does not affect the section 704(b) allocations or capital accounts, as such. Thus, the Proposed Regulations do not purport to change allocations of business interest expense (BIE). But, in a highly complex way, using “11 steps,” the Proposed Regulations do determine who may deduct BIE currently, who may carry forward any disallowed deduction, and who may be allocated excess taxable income (ETI). The program will review how section 163(j) applies to partnerships in light of the Proposed Regulations and discuss problems with the statute and the proposed regulatory approach. 9:00am  Where Do We Stand on Qualified Opportunity Funds?  Panelists will review key issues that remain unaddressed by IRS guidance concerning qualified opportunity funds.

Moderator: Alan S. Lederman, Gunster, Fort Lauderdale, FL
Panelists: Leila Vaughan, Royer Cooper Cohen Braunfeld LLP, Conshohocken, PA; Jessica Millett, Duval & Stachenfeld LLP, New York, NY; Julie Hanlon-Bolton, Special Counsel, IRS Associate Chief Counsel (Income Tax & Accounting), Washington, DC

9:45am  California’s Under-the-Microscope Approach to 1031. California’s Franchise Tax Board is undoubtedly the most aggressive tax agency in the country in reviewing and sometimes challenging taxpayer reporting of 1031 transactions. This panel will explore the FTB’s approach to various planning techniques (like “Drop & Swap”) and the status of recent published authority in California, including the Sharon Mitchell case, as well as the current status of expected guidance on California’s “clawback” regime applicable to exchanges of California for non-California property.

Moderator: Lou Weller, Weller Partners LLP, San Francisco, CA
Panelists: Jarrod M. Kiyuna, Wathen Castanos Homes, Fresno, CA; Ciro Immordino, California Franchise Tax Board, Rancho Cordova, CA; Christina Weed, Mendes Weed LLP, Walnut Creek, CA

10:30am  Break.

10:45am  Dealing with the New and Lingering Tax Issues of Cryptocurrency. While Notice 2014-21 provided a framework for taxing certain sales and exchanges and uses of convertible virtual currency, it left many questions unanswered, particularly as new types of virtual currencies and transactions emerged. In May, the IRS promised additional guidance. This presentation will focus on the tax issues raised by various business transactions involving virtual currency that may or may not be classified as convertible virtual currency. This includes questions about whether all or some of these transactions should be considered taxable sales or exchanges, taxation of sales of newly created crypto, dealer status, IRS audit and collection approaches, reporting requirements and more. Issues of basis tracking, crypto exchanges and swaps, the character of gain or loss, forks and airdrops will also be covered. In addition, this presentation will consider the factors that inform the classification of a given cryptocurrency or “security token” as a convertible virtual currency versus some other type of property using some new examples including Facebook’s Libra coin.

Panelist: Maria Huseinbhai, Tax Counsel – Multistate, Legal Division, State of California Franchise Tax Board, Rancho Cordova, CA

9:30am To Err is Human, to Forgive Divine: A Guide to Reasonable Cause And Other Defenses to Form 3520 Penalties. When a US person establishes or receives a distribution from a foreign trust, or when a US trust or US individual receives a gift from a foreign donor, a Form 3520 must be filed, with non-compliance, unless due to reasonable cause, subject to large monetary penalties. Panelists will review possible defenses to Form 3520 penalties, such as case law exempting transactions reconstructed for substantive US tax law as deemed gifts, reliance on professional tax preparers, and the constitutional prohibition on excessive fines. Related topics, such as the current IRS Delinquent International Information Return Submission Procedures for Forms 3520, and the Comments of the International Tax Planning Committee of the ABA Probate and Trust Division to the IRS on Form 3520 Penalties, will also be covered.
Moderator: Lu-Ann Dominguez, Gunster LLP, Ft. Lauderdale, FL
Panelist: Tracy M. Villecco, Associate Chief Counsel (International), Office of Chief Counsel, IRS, Washington, DC; Adrienne Griffin, Branch Chief, Procedure & Administration Branch 2, IRS, Washington, DC; Dianne
PROGRAM SCHEDULE
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 5

10:15am  Break.

10:30am  The Evil that Men Do Lives After Them: When is an Executor or Fiduciary Personally Liable for Taxes of Another? An executor must file a decedent’s missing tax returns and pay any liabilities owed to the United States. The Federal Priority Act (31 U.S.C. § 3713) mandates that federal government claims receive first priority for payment. If the executor transfers funds to other creditors or beneficiaries and leaves federal claims unpaid, the executor can be personally liable to the extent of those transfers. This panel will explore the obligations of executors and fiduciaries where a decedent or incapacitated taxpayer failed to satisfy or took willful steps to evade their federal tax obligations, the impact of the Federal Priority Act, the statutory provisions through which fiduciaries can limit their personal exposure, potential landmines including transferee liabilities, and some areas in need of administrative guidance or legislative action.

Panelists: Kurt Kawafuchi, Law Offices of Kurt Kawafuchi LLLC, Honolulu, HI; Wendy Abkin, Morgan Lewis & Bockius LLP, San Francisco, CA; Andrew Lendrum, Agostino & Associates PC, Hackensack, NJ

11:15am  Cryptocurrency–IRS Enforcement Efforts To Ensure Compliance. The IRS has been monitoring the acquisition, use, and exchange of digital currencies. Five years after the issuance of IRS Notice 2014-21, the IRS and its colleagues in the Department of Justice are working to identify those taxpayers failing to properly report income arising from and pay tax due on digital currency transactions. This panel will provide the IRS perspective on digital currency enforcement efforts from examination and collection to criminal investigation. The discussion will include a review of issues arising in audits involving digital currencies, use of the information obtained from the Coinbase summons enforcement proceedings, impact of digital currencies on Collection Information Statements (Forms 433), seizures of digital keys, and investigations into those seeking to evade the assessment or payment of tax through the use of digital currencies.
